

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

I FEAR that I shall be censured by many for my temerity in printing this index especially by those who, are better qualified than I to undertake the task.

That none of my critics have taken the trouble to print such a work is my excuse for doing so. The fact is; I have for several years, been obliged to refer to this newspaper, and found it very inconvenient to search through hundreds of pages and columns; so, I thought, that if the Obituary and Biographical Notices, were indexed and printed it would prove useful to some one who, like myself, is an humble labourer in the field of contemporary inquiry.

The pages of Jackson's Oxford Journal are an invaluable mine of wealth to the Genealogist; containing several Million names, and, I am well aware of the magnitude of the task undertaken, in compiling an index to a newspaper covering one hundred years, viz. 1753 to 1853, therefor I have decided to issue several years in each volume.

I know that the first edition of such a work must be far from perfect, and do not only look for but will welcome suggestions and criticisms tending, as they must, to render this Index more useful, and shall be glad to make any corrections or additions that are pointed out, and to incorporate the same with future volumes.

EDWARD A. B. MORDAUNT.

REFERENCE.

—o—

JACKSON'S OXFORD JOURNAL, Newspaper, was first published on Saturday 5 May 1753, having four pages, three columns to each page. The following method has been adopted to suit it to any file: thus 4 c 16 Aug. means page 4 column 3 16 August. When there is more than one reference they do not all refer to a death, but to some account of the same person; see Joseph Gill, page 17.

CORRECTION

—o:—

The following method has been adopted to suit it to any file; thus, 4 c 16 Aug means page 4, column 3, 16th August; the letter (according to the alphabet) after the first figure noting the column of the page.

EXECUTIONS AT TYBURN.

The last execution on a permanent gallows in London took place at Tyburn on Nov. 7. 1783, the malefactor being one John Austin, condemned for highway robbery with violence. For centuries Tyburn had been the scene of execution for criminals condemned in Middlesex, and before the erection of the permanent gibbet, occasional hangings had taken place, record existing of the hanging of Judge Tressilian and of Nicholas Brembre at that place as far back as 1388. The gallows consisted of three posts, and around it were open galleries resembling race-stands, in which seats were let.

On account of the disgraceful scenes on the road, executions were transferred in 1783 to the area in front of Newgate—despite the objections of residents—and on December 3 of that year the first hanging took place there, when no less than ten were executed.

Liverpool Evening Echo, 1902

The last public execution in England was that of Michael Barrett, the Fenian, at the Old Bailey, May 26th, 1868. Liverpool Weekly Post.
